"SPIRITUAL EDUCATION"

WHEN ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION IS NO LONGER SUFFICIENT ENOUGH

For some years, society has been subject to major changes. Old structures and methods have been overtaken, and don't work any more. Holistic and alternative schools, and education methods, can only partly meet the needs of the 'Children of the New Age'. Many children feel misunderstood, and react with emotional or physical problems, which can't be dealt with and solved by traditional methods. Classical education and the school system still focus on a child's mental ability. Alternative schools also include the physical and emotional level in their education system. But there is still one area missing, which has never been taken into account so far: the support and care for the spiritual-energetic level of young people – the spiritual education. Ingrid Auer's project, wants to provide interested parents, teachers and therapists, with practical and easy tips and instructions. Her spiritual tools – energized symbols and essences – support and accompany children effectively. Although the origins of our tools are in the spiritual level of our being, the application is independent of any religious or ideal values. No matter what world view you identify with, the effect of the tools is the same. It requires a certain amount of openness for new and so far unknown dimensions of our human life.

ALEXANDRA KOENIG

Alexandra Koenig is working for a non profit-making organization that provides for children aged 1-3 whose parents work. She is in charge of five houses, 35 employees and takes care of about 250 children each year. From her 15 years experience in organization she is convinced that adults can learn a lot from children and about children.

Unfortunately the current system of kindergarten, school, college and university has not caught up yet but things will change. Adults and educationalists such as teachers have to be open for the changes and the gifts that children bring with them and see every child as a wonderful individual. Some years ago Alexandra got to know Ingrid Auer's spiritual work which changed her life completely in a very positive way.
